

I do not think the law should be weakened. We as citizens should have the right to choose who should be allowed to call our home. This law is especially important to the seniors who can easily be fooled by telemarketers.